The 1942
COMMONER

Published by the Junior Class

FOREWORD

In departing from the conventional style of former Commoners we present to you in the following pages a resume of the year’s events. In what better way could Bryan University be portrayed than by following its activities in chronological order? As you peruse these pages may you relive this year in your mind and find therein the joy of spending a year of Christian cooperation in the Lord. May these pages inspire each reader to a higher realization of “God Above All.”
DEDICATION

Rev. Albert J. Levengood

Who has given his time and effort to instruct us in the fundamental truths of God's Word, who has in his messages on prophecy taught us to "Rightly divide the word of truth," who has manifested his leadership in encouraging and furthering the work of the Christian Service Association. To him, we, the class of 1943, with sincere appreciation dedicate this tenth volume of the Commoner.
REGISTRATION

From nineteen states and the District of Columbia came young men and women to register as students in Bryan University at the beginning of the fall quarter. One new student hailed directly from China; two others gave their birthplace as Africa; and another proudly declared his native land to be Ireland.

September 23 . . . lonely, tired Freshmen wend their way up Bryan Hill and tremulously go through the prerequisite ordeal of Freshmen Placement Tests.

September 24 . . . newcomers, quickly becoming adjusted to once-strange surroundings, find a novelty in choosing courses with the assistance of Dean Ryther, and the curricular requirements. After completing financial arrangements with Professor Fish and receiving work assignments from Mr. Llewellyn, each Freshman begins to feel like a real part of the university.

September 25 . . . twenty-five Sophomores, fourteen Juniors, and eight Seniors return to Bryan Hill, happy to meet old friends again, anxious to welcome new ones, and courageously planning an attack on advanced subjects.

September 26 . . . classes begin and Bryan University starts on its twelfth year with the determination that by the help of “God Above All” this year shall see great progress made.

DORMITORIES

An invaluable part of college education is "learning to live." Dormitory life at Bryan University provides this essential through the close associations among roommates and neighbors. Anticipating this fellowship, freshman men were soon situated in the dormitory section of the administration building and freshman girls quickly became accustomed to the cozy atmosphere of the Octagon.
WEEK

Registration over, September 29 opened a week of fun and hilarity for the Sophomores, but misery for the Freshmen. Wearing clothes backwards . . . shining Sophomore's shoes . . . saluting upperclassmen . . . hitting the dust at the command "air raid" . . . obtaining signatures on a raw egg . . . wearing pig tails . . . cleaning the tennis court . . . donning multi-colored stockings and odd shoes . . . all these constituted daily activities. Climaxing this the boys were marched to town barefoot, carrying buckets and mops with which they scrubbed a local drug store, meanwhile serving patrons on the sidewalk. The girls, on the other hand, furnished entertainment for high school football fans when they were forced to strut up the field between halves, striking up the band on wastebaskets. October 4 found dread of the blacklist removed and brought sighs of relief from all concerned.

ADMISTRATION

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

Through daily contact with our faculty and staff we have realized that this is the true foundation of Christian education. From each one we have received patient and thorough instruction, not only in the classroom, but also in the every-day complex of life. In them we have witnessed the manifestation of our criterion—Academic Achievement and Christian Character.

The student council constitutes a mediatory body between students and faculty. Proctors, chosen by the counsellors, are on duty at the dormitories to maintain quiet during the study hours each week-day evening. The dormitory committees and the proctors work together to maintain the standards of Christian cooperation.

The Quiet Belle
Foreign Missions Fellowship

With interests focused on all foreign fields, this group meets bi-monthly to share news from missionary friends, to better appreciate the needs of the mission field, and to unite in prayer for those already on the field.

Seated: Mrs. Llewellyn, Miss Rader, Miss Kaltenbach, Mrs. Coutts, Miss Fay. Standing: H. Moeller, M. Lynch, H. Waller, Secretary; C. Miller, N. Stover, President; E. Rosenau, G. Hay, E. Healan, A. Wyllie, E. Hartschuh, J. Neff, B. Batson, Regional Secretary; R. Jones, C. S. A. Council Representative; R. Mowrey, (not pictured), Vice-President.

Looking forward to full-time Christian service as pastors, evangelists, and Bible teachers, these young men meet to study the methods of presenting God's Word and to discuss the problems that are encountered in the ministry.

Seated: M. Cain, W. Tressler, L. Winstead, Secretary; L. Hoyt, President; J. Harper, Vice-President; S. Hoyt, C. S. A. Representative; R. Thompson. Standing: C. Brogan, D. Joiner, J. Sullivan, R. Harper, M. Mellinger, J. Doud, S. Hemberger, M. Murphey.

Student Pastors Fellowship
Having a desire to serve the Lord, but not having heard a definite call to be pastors or missionaries, these young people meet for Christian fellowship in praise, prayer, and testimony.

“Suffer the little children to come unto Me.” With this statement of our Lord to inspire them, these students each week reach both white and colored children with the Gospel of Salvation, through Scripture memory work, choruses, and flannelgraph object lessons.
Functioning through the medium of the Dayton Herald, this organization weekly reports two columns of Bryan news. Also acting as an agent for other newspapers, this club sends news of students to their home-town papers.

The Newsette, monthly publication of the university, reaches between eight and ten thousand friends, informing them of the school’s activities and progress. It is the duty of the staff to report items of interest and to pass on messages of spiritual value.

Grace Levengood, Editor; Ruhe Rudd, Reporter; Jesse Humberd, Make-up Editor; Mrs. L. E. Fish, Alumni Editor; Dean Ryther, Advisor.
Debate Club

Weekly meetings of this organization are held to learn and practice methods of argumentation and debate. Varsity debaters chosen from this group represented the university at the Tennessee State Forensic Tournament.

Seated: G. Hay, B. Batson, Vice-President; R. Rudd, Dean Ryther, L. Winstead, J. Humberd, President; R. Langford, Secretary. Standing: T. Mellow, Corresponding Secretary; R. Mills, R. Harper, G. Birch, K. Kennard, J. Doud.

Designed to provide expression for talent and original thinking, and opportunity for students to learn the rudiments of parliamentary procedure, the Forensic Union holds monthly meetings of current interest.

Officers: Leonard Winstead, President; Leona Wilson, Recording Secretary; Jean Neff and Warren Wynkoop, Corresponding Secretaries; Milton Murphey and Samuel Hemberger, Sergeants-at-arms; Mark Leveengood and Sumner Wemp, Poster Chairman; Grace Leveengood and Ted Mellow, Critics; Dean Ryther, Faculty Advisor.

Forensic Union
Realizing in this an opportunity both for radio experience and service for our Lord, a group of students continued the precedent of last year. Under the direction of Dean Ryther, with the assistance of Miss Yancey, they were heard each Monday morning on Radio Revival, WDOD, Chattanooga, giving forth testimony in word and song. L. Hoyt, L. Goehring, C. Brogan, R. Clement, Dean Ryther, L. Wilson, R. Mowrey, J. Humberd, C. Graham, K. Hirschy, J. Harper, S. Hoyt. Pianist: Miss Yancey.

Under the direction of Julia Anna Yancey, the Brass Ensemble furnished music at the dedication of Gabbert Field at the local high school. From this organization have been formed various instrumental quartets and duets which have participated in programs during the year. Back row: Miss Yancey, B. Ingraham, L. Goehring, L. Hoyt, M. Murphey, K. Hirschy, S. Hoyt, J. Sullivan.
Camera Club

At regular meetings of this club, the members study better methods of photography. Each member has access to the darkroom, where he learns to develop films and print pictures. Thus one can get a pleasant and practical education.

19—Exams over, Faculty and students enjoy Bryan Birthday Banquet.
Campus Clean-Up

The Spring Quarter had hardly opened when the welcome news of the annual spring clean-up was announced for March 31 and April 1. Knowing from past experience that this would be more work than play, President Rudd escaped to Canada and Dean Ryther retreated to Nashville.

Climaxing the second day's work, the students and faculty gathered around a campfire for relaxation, enjoyment, and spiritual fellowship. Everyone enthusiastically agreed to have an extra day in which to add a finishing touch to the campus.

All was not work, however, as evidenced by this characteristic senior. No further proof needed.

Refreshments and plenty of original nonsense added zest to the work and zeal to the workers.
Archery Club

The lure of the bow and arrow provides incentive for instruction and recreation in this ancient sport.

The 1942 Summer Staff
William Jennings Bryan University

Dear Members of the Staff:

You have given me a serious task in asking me to furnish a message for the students, staff members, and friends of the William Jennings Bryan University. It is generally known that the days are evil. There is no way out. Ten trouble at these things taking place on the earth. Surely the sands of time are sinking. A few years ago we said, "Time Marches On." Now "Time Flies" in a sense never before so true. This year has passed as a dream in the night.

Should we not call out the hour of the night? "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light." This is a time for us who know Him to walk honestly, as in the day.

I would call attention not only to the limited time that is sure, but to the limited energy and endurance of each one of us. But more than this, it behooves us to remember that only what is done for Christ, and in the wisdom and strength of Christ, will last. All else will prove to be wood, hay, and stubble.

May each of us come to the end of life's day singing the words of that old hymn:

With mercy and with judgment
By weal or time He were:
And seek the deeds of sorrow
Were nurtured by His love.

Earnestly yours in that love,

Judson Rudd
President.

ROBERT GREENE LEE,
Ph.D., D.D.

Dr. Lee has been pastor of the Bellevue Baptist Church of Memphis, Tennessee, since 1928. Under his zealous and energetic leadership this church has witnessed great physical and spiritual growth.

He is much in demand as a speaker, and has an excellent command of the English language and literature. His interests are wide, and besides his ministry, he has found time to write nearly a score of widely read books, and to participate in many denominational, as well as secular, undertakings.

Commencement!

Commencement! Another milestone is passed. Four great years of university training behind them. Now a greater future before them.

With smiling countenances and determination some will go into further preparation for the ministry, others will enter the professional world, the business world . . . or the army, but wherever they go, the world shall see in them, our Seniors of 1942, a victorious testimony for the Lord.
